Civic Association

Elect Officers

The first regular meeting of the Board of Directors of the Agawam Civic Association was held at the Town Administration Building last Sunday evening. Seventeen members of the Board of Directors and about fourteen interested individuals attended this meeting.

Permanent officers for the coming year were elected by the board. Rev. James G. Shea, C.S.S. of Sacred Heart Parish was elected president; Victor Moreno, 1st vice president; Alfred Christopher, 2nd vice president; Benjamin Bassani, treasurer; and Mrs. Carol Miller, secretary.

A plaque was presented to Jack L. Moltenbrey, general secretary of the Agawam Community Y.M.C.A., for service to youth and the citizens of the town of Agawam. Moltenbrey is resigning his position to accept a position with the New Britain, Conn., Y.M.C.A. in January.

The Directors also heard a report from Dr. Eber Wein on the possibility of an Emergency Medical Center in Agawam. The problems of staffing and financing such a facility seems too formidable at the present time and the Board tabled the suggestion for the present.

Harry Leonardi presented an outline of proposals for town beautification and the Board approved the idea of an ongoing program. Leonardi was appointed as chairman of a committee to bring in specific proposals for a specific beautification project at the next meeting. Also serving on the committee are: Rev. Frank Dunn, Victor Moreno, and Father Shea.

A considerable portion of the meeting was devoted to a presentation regarding the establishment of a Hullabaloo Teen Age Dance Club in Agawam. The board has taken the proposal under advisement and will discuss it further at the next meeting of the Board of Directors, Sunday, Dec. 4th.

PRAYER FOR PEACE

Thanksgiving 1966

In many homes across the nation today, there's a vacant seat at the dinner table. It seems like yesterday, when the high chair was put up in the attic, and he sat down at the table for the first time, propped up with a few pillows.

As he began to grow tall, he talked about many things. He would be one day a policeman or space scientist, professional ball-player or a college professor. The world was his oyster.

His adolescent years passed quickly—high school days had come and gone—and suddenly overnight he became a man—for Uncle Sam beckoned and approved.

His turkey dinner with all the fixings will not be the same as ours. The Viet Cong may not wait. We'll miss his infectious grin—his kidding around with the rest of the family—no, he is on serious business now.

To those families with all the fixings are inadequate to express the feelings of a family separated by war.

What all of us can do, when we sit down to that traditional Thanksgiving Day feast, is to pause—give thanks to the Supreme Being and pray that a safe return may be granted to those absent and that peace will come to the world.

And as George Washington proposed in his Thanksgiving Day proclamation in 1789 thanks for constitutional government, let us hope that the governments of the world may become servants and not masters of the people.

Westfield Savings Bank To Have Agawam Branch

WESTFIELD—Westfield Savings Bank has received permission to establish a branch office in the town of Agawam, according to President Arthur W. Knapp. Notice of the approval was received by Mr. Knapp from John B. Hynes, Massachusetts commissioner of banks.

The Westfield Savings Bank president said it is proposed to build the new office on a site at 643 Main St., Agawam, and he noted that use of this particular site is contingent upon a zone change for which the bank already has applied.

"If the townspeople grant the necessary zone change it is our plan to erect a very attractive colonial building at 643 Main St.," Mr. Knapp said. "The building will be set well back from the street and we will devote much attention to the landscaping of the property. The building will be designed to blend very nicely with the surrounding area."

Back to Baking

by Betty Crocker

Welcome back, hot breads. And hello again to versatile, piping-hot biscuits and muffins — perfect partners for autumn's hearty meals. For "quickie" variations to a batch of beautiful biscuits, try this sometime: Mix ½ cup shredded sharp cheese with the batter — or 1½ teaspoons celery salt. Superb with soups and stews! To put a little fun in the muffin pan, bake the oatmeal and corn varieties below. For fancy fall "muffs," polka-dot a basic muffin batter by folding in ¼ cup halved cranberries, tossed with ¼ cup confectioners' sugar. Just one thing. Wherever hot breads go, be sure they go hot — snuggled into a pretty napkin.

Bake up a surprise for breakfast. Here's autumn's corn flavored muffins for meat casseroles.

- OATMEAL MUFFINS
2 tablespoons sugar*
1 egg
¾ cup milk
2 cups Bisquick
¾ cup rolled oats
- CORN MUFFINS or STICKS
1 tablespoon sugar
1 egg
½ cup milk
¾ cup Bisquick
½ cup cornmeal

Heat oven to 400°. Grease 12 muffin cups. Mix all ingredients until blended. Beat vigorously 30 seconds. Fill muffin cups ¾ full. Bake 15 minutes. *For richer muffins, add 2 tablespoons melted shortening or salad oil and another 2 tablespoons sugar.

More Biscuit Variations: Follow favorite biscuit recipe except — mix in ½ cup shredded dried beef or stir in ¼ cup minced chives or ½ cup chopped peanuts.

YOU AND YOUR INSURANCE

(A public service column about property and casualty insurance)
by KENNETH S. RAFFOL

Equitable Claim Settlement Goal of Insurance Adjuster

"Just what is an insurance adjuster?" a reader asks.

He is the man who works with a policyholder to determine a satisfactory settlement when a claim or loss occurs under a property and liability insurance policy. The adjuster is an expert in estimating damage, and an experienced hand in helping an insured who has incurred a loss obtain equitable payment.

The adjuster may be called upon to estimate the damage to a home destroyed by fire, damage expedited—equitably—by an adjuster sometimes working 'round the clock.

In the long run, the adjuster saves all policyholders money by adjusting claims fairly while preventing excesses and "padding," thereby keeping insurance rates as low as possible.

"This column will be glad to answer any questions about property and liability insurance. Send them to The Agawam Independent, marked to the attention of Kenneth S. Raffol, Insurance Agency, P.O. Box 442, Agawam, Mass."

Westfield Savings

Mr. Knapp said the selection of Agawam for a Westfield Savings Bank branch office was based on "the present excellent stature of the town and the growth that will occur in town in the years just ahead. It is our belief that Westfield Savings Bank can effectively serve the community."

He also noted that Westfield Savings Bank now has a large volume of savings and mortgage business in Agawam, which now is the third largest service area of the bank. In addition, Westfield Savings Bank conducts the school savings program in Agawam schools. This program was introduced by the bank early this year at the request of the Agawam School Committee.

Westfield Savings Bank, established in 1853, now has assets of almost $50 million. The bank moved into a modern new Westfield office in 1964. It has operated a West Springfield branch office since 1948 and has occupied its own building at 206 Park St. in that community since 1957.

to an auto resulting from a collision, the loss of income sustained by a company plant damaged by explosion, or even damage to a valuable work of art. He may be called upon to investigate facts used for determining legal liability in an auto accident.

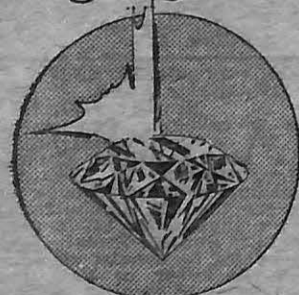

Adjusters handle 40 to 50 individual claims in a typical month. These diverse assignments require a great deal of knowledge and skill. It is a specialized function, and a person with specialized training, education and experience is needed to fill the role.

One enormous advantage of a large adjustment organization such as the General Adjustment Bureau, with 766 branch offices in the U.S., is its ability to marshal a large force of trained adjusters whenever a catastrophe—such as a hurricane or tornado—creates a sudden volume of losses in a concentrated area. When catastrophe strikes, policyholders need quick relief, and claims are

Director of Veterans Services

Massachusetts veterans receiving pensions may save themselves inconvenience by notifying the Veterans Administration immediately when there is an increase in their annual income.

The amount of a veteran's pension, the VA at Boston pointed out, is based on his income and the number of people in his family. If any of these factors change, his pension may change.

If the veteran receives any additional income, this should be reported at once to the VA.

For the same reason, should his family status change (divorce or death of his wife; marriage, death or birth of a child; or the marriage of the veteran), the VA should be advised immediately.

Failure to report income above the legal limits may result in VA overpayments and the veteran may be required to return some or all pension payments.

Further information and assistance may be obtained at the Veterans Administration Office, 36 Main St. (Town Hall), Agawam, or the Veterans Administration Contact Division, Room E-116, John F. Thanksgiving...A Great Tradition

It has been said that nothing is so constant as change. Bulldozers and earth movers give evidence of this every day. And yet, a few traditions and principles will very likely be with us as long as there is a United States, and as long as we enjoy freedom under representative government. A typically American tradition is Thanksgiving, this year to be observed November 24—a day of quiet when the family foregathers in the privacy of home to give thanks and to partake of that fine old symbol of Thanksgiving—a roast turkey.

Once again, it will be a sober day for many who have members of their families in the Armed Forces. And it will be a sad day for more than a few who must endure an empty space at the table that will never be filled. For these, the tragedy of war has exacted the ultimate price. While it may be small comfort, they should be assured that they have the deepest sympathy of all the good people of our country. On Thanksgiving, there should be no other kind. And, while we think of Thanksgiving in terms of family gatherings, it should not be forgotten that giving thanks with due humility is a matter for the individual. In that moment, we are alone with our thoughts. They should be worthy of a great day and a great tradition.

My Neighbors

"Well goodnight John—we certainly enjoyed your wife's hospitality."

TODAY'S AGRI-FACT

After Thanksgiving dinner has been served, lots of people don't realize that letting the cooked and stuffed turkey sit on a counter outside the refrigerator after the meal allows the bird and stuffing to lose flavor and freshness quite rapidly. Once the meal has been served, the remaining stuffing should be taken from the turkey and put in a covered bowl in the refrigerator. The remaining meat should be taken from the bones, wrapped well and put in the refrigerator.

Tuition-free

Anyone over 65 can attend the University of Kentucky tuition-free. There are no resident or scholastic qualifications.

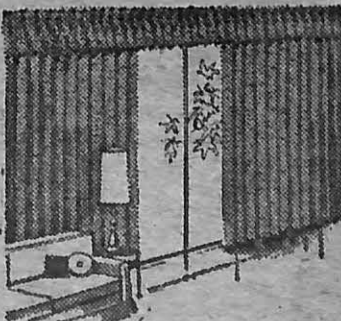

The program, known as the Herman L. Donovan Senior Fellowship, was set up in 1964 to demonstrate that "an institution such as this can constantly increase its resources and services to all."

At present 65 students are enrolled under this program. They can study for pleasure, or work toward a degree.

The director of the program, Dr. Earl Kauffman, believes that it is the only one of its kind in the United States but other colleges are studying it with interest.

The flavor of Clam Rice is so unique that most folks who taste it for the first time think it is made with many ingredients.

But this main dish accompaniment couldn't be easier to prepare. Bottled clam juice and green onions plus butter and seasonings are the only flavoring agents used to cook the rice. The interesting taste is the result of steaming the rice over low heat until all the liquid is absorbed and the kernels are tender and separate.

It is unlikely that any Clam Rice would be left over, but if it should, cover it and refrigerate for second servings within the week. To reheat, add two tablespoons of water per cup of cooked rice, and cook, covered, four to five minutes. The reheated rice will be as tasty as the first time it was served.

Clam Rice

| 1 cup sliced green onions | 1 bottle (7 1/2 ozs.) clam juice |
| 1 cup uncooked rice | 1 cup water |
| 2 tablespoons butter or margarine | 1 teaspoon salt |
| | Dash of pepper |

Cook onions and rice in butter until rice is golden. Add clam juice, water, salt and pepper. Heat to boiling, stir once, cover, reduce the heat and simmer 15 minutes. Toss lightly. Makes 6 servings.

SOCIAL SECURITY Questions and Answers

Q. I will have earned about $6,000 when I retire on November 1st of this year. Does this mean that I will not be able to receive any benefits until next year?

A. Not necessarily. Although you will have earned much more than the annual limit of $1,500, you still could get benefits for November and December if you do not earn over $125 in either of those two months.

Q. Last year I earned $1,440 and had some of my checks withheld. Is it true that if I earn this amount again this year, it will not affect my benefits at all?

A. This is correct. The earnings limitation, as of January 1st of this year, was raised from $1200 to $1500 a year.

Q. I have a 17-year old son receiving benefits. If he takes a part-time job, is the earnings limit the same for him as for me?

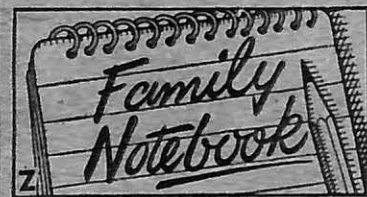

A. Yes. A child beneficiary who works is permitted to earn up to $1500 a year without affecting payment of his benefits.

Q. I operate my own business. There always are a few slack months most years in which I do not think I earn as much as $125. If I kept exact records to show that I did not earn $125, could I be paid benefits for those months?

A. Monthly earnings are not used as the measuring stick in determining when benefits might be paid to self-employed persons. Rather, it is the amount of work performed in a given month. You can get benefits for any month you do not render substantial services to your business.

Q. I own a dry-cleaning establishment which was left to me by my husband. Because of my physical condition my daughter has taken over almost complete operation of the business so that all I do now is check over purchases and pay the bills. Does this arrangement permit me to receive benefits even though I still own the business?

A. It would be necessary to know just how much time you now spend on the business and the exact nature of the work you perform but it sounds as though you might not be performing sub-

New Households

Every 21 seconds there's one more new U.S. household. That's one more equipped kitchen. If you're puzzled about the bride's gift or what to buy that bride—here are a few thought-nudgers from Jones & Laughlin Steel Corporation.

1. An electric skillet has its place among the basics. You can make menu magic with newer models which fry, boil, bake or roast — then turn into elegant serving pieces. When you buy a skillet get the best for long, safe service—stainless steel inside and out gives easy care and even cooking. To clean, just dunk your immersible skillet in soap and water, remove caked-on food with a stainless steel sponge, rinse and wipe dry.

2. An electric coffeemaker is a must item. Brewing time is fast, coffee stays hot and you'll make that good cup of coffee every time. But—make sure the coffee pot is really clean; always use cold water for making coffee; the pot should be filled to its capacity for the best coffee.

3. The toaster has become regal. One stainless steel toaster, for example, has nine different settings. Toasters now hold more, work faster and are easier to clean. Design is high style and the gleam lasts with stainless steel.

These three kitchen starters are for regular use. As you add to your inventory, you can choose from a growing array of blenders, mixers, can openers, knives and knife sharpeners, rotisseries and warming trays—all of stainless steel with the heirloom look without heirloom care.

Q. Does income from rents ever count in considering whether a person has gone over the $1500 earnings limit.

Q. I will be 65 in October and will be retiring then. Will my wages for the previous 9 months of the year be considered in determining whether I can draw any benefits after retirement?

A. Yes, earnings for the entire year must be counted. However, benefits can be paid for any particular month or months in which you will not be earning over $125.

MANLIUS, N.Y.—Cadet John F. Connelly, II, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward W. Connelly of 565 River Road, Agawam, earned the Blue Cord for special academic merit for the school's first marking period at a special Academic Awards ceremony held this week in Knox Hall, at The Manlius School. The awards were presented by Mr. Rowland W. Burbank, Headmaster, and entitles the winners to special privileges during the time they are on the Honors List.

The Name's The Game

For a hostess, a good memory goes a long way. But sometimes it needs a little push. After I meet someone, I write down his name ten times with a little "key" word about his job, or hobby. Elementary? Yes, but also deliciously flattering. Next time I can say, "Why Mr. Block, how nice to see you again. And how did that charity drive finally work out?" Then, watch Mr. Block fairly glow with the recognition of his pet project.

The most infuriating thing is when someone sidles over to you and says, "Say, I bet you don't remember me." Sometimes I feel like retorting, "You're right, I don't remember you," and march off, but that would be almost as rude as his "testing" remark.

It happens that you'll meet someone but can't recall his name. Best to play it as if you did with some noncommittal, "How have you been?" (said with bright enthusiasm). Then, as you take him over to the bar and see that he gets a cocktail or a glass of chilled Pepsi-Cola if he's a non-drinker, you can continue to engage him in conversation and hope he drops the all-important clue that will unlock your memory door.

To avoid any awkwardness, when you meet someone at an informal party always identify yourself. "Hello, I'm Bob Kelly. I met you at Liz Rowan's Easter dinner." This direct approach saves everyone. Better to always assume you're not remembered than that you are—a little ego-deflating perhaps, but generally a less embarrassing course in the long run.

SPORTSMEN'S CORNER

By Bill Chiba

The Mendon-Pico Motel on Route 4, Mendon, Vt., operated by Mr. Raymond Casella was the headquarters for the annual fall gathering of the New England Outdoor Writers' Association. The Vermont Fish and Game Department hosted the 47 writers and treated them in a royal fashion the entire week-end. Commissioner Kehoe, Fish and Game, was assisted by Robert Candy, I & E Chief of the department, Dick Field, Floyd Lampere, Roger Morgan, Harold Dockum, Al Blow, Ray Hood, Clifford Hatch and Bruce Dawson. These men deserve a vote of thanks for the time and effort they expended in trying to put deer with horns in the sights of the outdoor writers.

Pete Rudzik of the Daily Hampshire Gazette and Bill Edwards, Amherst Record, saved the day for the writers by bagging two nice deer. Pete's buck dressed out 180 pounds, and Bill's 140. Mike Kendzior, guest of Mike Stula, Connecticut Fish and Game Board Member, downed a 145 pound buck. The success ratio was at a rock bottom low. However, the dinner Saturday night served family style, boasted of plate upon plate of venison and moose meat.

John Daley, lieutenant governor, representing the governor, stressed a new policy for Vermont. The future plans call for the catering to outdoor buffs. There is gold in the green hills of Vermont, and the executive department is planning to tap the natural resources of the state to capture it. From now on, the borders of Vermont will not be barriers, but bridges, welcoming the visitors to the state with open arms. In other words, Vermont will be stressed as the "playground" of the east.

Last Shoot

The West Springfield Fish and Game will hold their last turkey shoot the 29th. It is important that everyone that has won in the past be present. The past winners will have the opportunity to shoot off for a Remington "22" automatic rifle. The rifle shoot will commence about 4 p.m. The club extends its thanks and warmth to Harold Nowill, who has chairmaned the shoots for the last two years, and his committee for the splendid job they have done.

Cirillo Champ!

Jocco Cirillo has tried for two years to win a turkey at the shoots held at the Agawam Sportsmen Club. Finally, he won the grand slam event Sunday and the turkey dinner that was the prize. Ironically he cannot claim the prize. Jim Devine was busy when his turn came to shoot, so Jocco volunteered to do the honors and won the dinner for Jim. Better luck next week Jocco.

Winners of the rounds were: Ed Jabeck, Wes Vereen, Norman Nardi, Bob Balise, Frank Fagnani, Mr. Craig, Bob Marquiss, Bob Antaya, Brad Guillisen and Spud Leculier.

The shoot the 4th of December will have live turkeys on hand, and the 11 baskets loaded with goodies plus the turkeys will be awarded.

Food Galore

The Agawam Bowmen Club, Inc., will sponsor a smorgasbord and dance the 3rd of December at St. Anthony Hall, Springfield St., Feeding Hills, Mass. Serving will commence at 6:30 p.m. and the donation is only $1.99. Tickets will be available at the door. A five piece orchestra will furnish the music for the dancing later in the evening. If you do not care to stay for the dance, treat the wife to a meal out, come for the food. There will be plenty—plenty!!

The Alcoholic Beverages Control Commission has issued the following information:

Some licensees have heretofore in the Christmas season in newspaper, magazine, poster and other advertisements of their products, used the picture and/or name of St. Nicholas (also called Santa Claus or Klaus). The Commission is informed that this type of advertising is disapproved generally by those engaged in the alcoholic beverages industry for the reason that the patron saint has since time immemorial, been associated with children, and it is for the best interests of the industry that its advertisements should in no way associate the children's saint with alcoholic beverages.

The commission is thoroughly opposed to the use of any such method of advertising and hereby requests all those engaged in the alcoholic beverages industry to refrain from the use of either the picture and/or name of St. Nicholas, or any other name to designate the patron saint, or any reference to him, and that they also refrain from the use of the picture or name of any Biblical character, event or phrase.

In connection therewith we also desire to direct the attention of licensees for the sale of alcoholic beverages to that portion of our Regulation #14 which reads as follows: "The use of any advertising matter of an improper or objectionable nature is prohibited."

"A class reunion is an occasion for seeing how much faster your old buddies have aged than you have."

Many licensees will have appropriate decorative displays in their establishments and the Commission insists that wherever these displays are used they shall be dignified and in keeping with the occasion commemorated with the above exceptions.

The Alcoholic Beverages Control Commission is made up of Quintin J. Cristy, chairman, Joseph B. Harrington, and Vincent R. Caroleo.

When it comes to recreation, board games are as solid a lure as they were centuries ago.

One of the most ancient games on record still holds its popularity. A board for backgammon was found at Ur of the Chaldees, dating about 3,000 B. C., and the game is played in much the same way today. The elements of chance and skill are nicely balanced in backgammon so that each is essential to victory. This is perhaps the reason for its lasting favor. Checkers from the family checker board double as pieces for backgammon. In fact, many boards have alternate sides, with checkers on one face and backgammon on the other. Such boards, with checkers and dice, are found in local variety stores.

Chinese checkers is a quick and free-for-all type of variation on the traditional type of checkers. Two to six people can play the fast-moving and competitive game. "Games are the best party mixers a good hostess can pull out of her bag of tricks," says Mary Hilt of Whitman Publishing Company of Racine, Wisconsin, leading manufacturer of games and activity items.

Bingo, one of the most popular group games in the country, was developed in the 1800's from a game called lotto, originally used to attract people to traveling carnivals. For the youngsters, there is a new kind of bingo played with pictures.

Board games can be found in many stores packaged separately or in a multiple game kit. A typical game kit offers boards, checkers, dice, marbles and markers for as many as seventy different games. An accompanying booklet lists the directions of each game separately. For steady home use or for families planning a trip, a box of assorted games is ideal.

Whether one's taste is traditional, of the backgammon sort, or adventuresome enough for a stock market board game... gamesmanship appeals for party activity or home relaxation.

Bureaucratic Nightmare PLIGHT OF THE SMALL BUSINESS MAN

(Don MacLean in Washington Daily News)

It was a hilarious bit that Sen. Everett McKinley Dirksen (R., Ill.) and his willing slave, a Senate page boy, enacted on the Senate floor the other day. Sen. Dirksen, the tousled-headed warrior, thinks that the small business men of the nation—grocers, barbers, bakers, etc.—are so busy filling out government forms and studying federal regulations that they have little time left to run their business. To illustrate, Sen. Dirksen appeared on the floor loaded down with forms.

"This is part of the wage and hour act," Sen. Dirksen said. "I ask the page boy to take one end of the folded document and walk with it to the side door so we may see it fully extended. There. This is something merchants must be familiar with to make sure they're not breaking the law!" He then had the page boy stretch out the fair labor standards act, which is 93 pages long, or about 65 feet. After that, the page boy returned and trudged wearily off with the end of an "Interpretative Bulletin on Overtime Compensation." The lad was almost out of sight as Sen. Dirksen explained that the bulletin measures 19 feet more than the height of Niagara Falls.

The page came back to Sen. Dirksen and was sent stumbling away with the end of 35 folded pages of "Terms for Executive, Administrative, Professional and Outside Salesmen." By this time white carpets of federal forms lay in every direction. Sen. Dirksen waved a four-page report, "Authorization of Established Basic Rates for Computing Overtime Pay," which he spread himself as the page boy rested. There was an 11-page report. The page boy spread that across some empty desks. Sen. Dirksen then dispatched the boy, in rapid order, with "Records to be kept by Employers," "Amendment to Fulltime Students at Special Minimum Rates" and "Equal Pay for Equal Work." Finally, the page boy, gasping like a long-distance runner, returned to Sen. Dirksen, grabbed the end of "Hours Worked, Part 785," and staggered down the aisle.

"Gentlemen, just look at this," Sen. Dirksen said, "Small business, where the husband runs the shop and the wife does the books, cannot possibly cope with it. They take a chance, and when they get into trouble, they call their senator or their representative."

Sen. Frank Lausche (D., O.) asked Dirksen if he could interpret the forms himself and Dirksen said, "Interpret them? Why, 76 trombones and 77 Philadelphia lawyers could not do it!"

WORLD CHAMPIONS' brother and sister Otto and Maria Jelinek, dedicate their first number in the all new 27th Edition of Ice Capades to their adopted country, Canada, on its celebration of its centennial, in a "Salute to Canada." They perform twice in America's No. 1 Family Show, which opens at the Eastern States Coliseum, West Springfield, for just 10 evening performances and eight matinees, starting Wednesday, Nov. 23rd through Dec. 4th.

Ice Capades Opens At Coliseum

Ice Capades, justly famed for presenting some of the world's greatest music in a setting of fantastic ice skating beauty, hits a highly popular note when it features "The King Lives On," a tribute to the great talents of the late Nat "King" Cole.

Cole's music, as many of his millions of fans well know, runs a lively gamut in tempo and setting from lovely ballads such as "A Christmas Song" to the popular jazz of "Route 66."

While the music was a challenge, as well as an inspiration, for Choreographer Bob Turk, and to the talented performers, it was a natural for Ice Capades to translate into a colorful spectacle on ice. Checking over the many top selling hits it was discovered that his rhythm seemed to practically suggested the course of the number. It was then just a case of selecting a few out of the myriad of tunes the public has always and will continue to love.

The Cole number, which calls for exquisite costumes, alone took a big portion of the costume budget, but the bedazzling combination of striking orange and gold made the expenditure worthwhile. The entire ensemble skates to such favorites as "Christmas Song," "Sweet Lorraine," and "My Kind of Girl." Peter Voss, the German champion skates his sole to the great hit "Nature Boy" followed by the upbeat "Route 66" performed by the twice world's champion, Aja Zanova. The number closes with Phil Romaine and Cathy Steele skating to new romantic heights in the music "More," "Unforgettable" and "Mona Lisa."

will remain a pleasant memory along with such beautiful production numbers as "High Button Shoes," "Inca Exotic" with music by Paul McCartney and John Lennon, and "Strike Up The Band" a rousing production of color and skating precision. Not to be forgotten of course are the antics of comics Freddie Trankler and Hans Leiter.

America's #1 family show opens at the Eastern States Coliseum, West Springfield, on Wednesday, Nov. 23rd for just 10 nights and 8 matinees. Tickets are now available at the Hockey Club Box Office located at the Coliseum and open daily from 10 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. or they may be secured through the mail.

SQUARE DANCE

By June and Elmer Roosa

Hello again — We're moving up closer to what is purported to be the gayest season of the year. We wonder anew each year how and why we fall victim to the hysteria that seems to envelop more and more people as the days go whizzing by and THE big day draws closer. Guess there are as many reasons for the excitement and anticipation as there are kids who want to see "Santa."

But, let's not forget what is just as important — Thanksgiving — we really are very thankful for a great many things and #1 on the list is our good health, which enables us to take part in a "fun" thing like Square Dancing. That IS a blessing and for it we're grateful.

My Beat — A.H.S.

As the curtain rose last Friday night on the freshman-Sophomore play, "The Search for Wildcat McGillicuddy," played by Bill Barginning of the end of the preparations for these Interclass Plays. This "Wildcat" play is about a student, Wildcat Willy McGillicuddy, played by Bill Barker, who gets hypnotized by Bart, portrayed by Bob Allard, in the presence of other students, played by Nancy Osolinski, Randy Parker, Denise Hawkins, and Tommy Henry. Bart sends Willy back to a previous existence when Willy was an Irishman. When the teacher, played by Jo-Ann Della-Giustina, brings the mayor, Don Colburn, to see the students, Willy crows like a rooster because of a post-hypnotic suggestion. After the hypnotizing of Willy is explained to the teacher, she tells the students that a person tries to please his hypnotist even to the extent of creating stories, and that Willy didn't really once live in Ireland in a previous existence. The loud applause of the audience showed how much they enjoyed the play.

The next play was performed by the seniors entitled "The Man Who Was Followed By His Heart," about a man, Niam Mindenski, played by Dave Sweeney, who has no heart. The only way to get it back, he is told by his grandmother, Julie James, is to have someone take it from him. He tries giving it to characters in the street, who are played by Diane Malley, Chilene Tuttle, Glen Hosco, and Gail Roberts. Finally, he dies, and Jimmy Clark takes Niam's heart out of his hands, and only then does Niam have his heart. Other cast members in this play were Ralph Johnson, Garma Meyer, Peggy Case, Terry Pietroniro, Linda Antienowicz, and Claudia Ayotte.

The winning play, "The Man Who Was Followed By His Heart," was directed by Miss Kolburg. Dave Sweeney was chosen best actor, and Cheryl Birchall received the best actress award. Runner-up to best actor was Bill Barker, and Michaelene Dalton was runner-up to best actress. Honorable mention for best actor went to Bob Allard and Bob Reynolds, and Nancy Osolinski and Ann Marie Shaer received honorable mention for best actress. Congratulations to all winners, and to all participants in this Interclass Play Competition!

Are We the Eager Beavers?

To be an Eager Beaver in the Christmas Gift Shop program this year, all a Unit's gifts must be at the Veterans Hospital to be serviced by Nov. 27.

Last Monday was spent by the chairman, Mrs. Julia Moore, Mrs. Virginia Catchepaugh and Mrs. Gladys Catchepaugh, at the home of the latter, boxing and packing Unit 185's gifts, to be taken to Northampton VA Hospital.

Agawam's American Legion Auxiliary Unit will be one of three unit's conducting the Gift Shop on Tuesday, Nov. 29. This will be a full day's work. Members who can undertake this, and would like to give the time, are asked to contact Mrs. Moore or some member of the Unit as soon as possible so that transportation can be arranged.

The Unit has already exceeded its quota, and wishes to thank the organizations, members and friends who helped them to attain his goal.

The next regular meeting of Wilson-Thompson Unit will be held on Dec. 5 in the Legion Home.

A joint smorgasbord will be held by Post and Unit on Saturday evening, Dec. 3, for the benefit of the Legion Post's annual Christmas Party for the children. The Unit is planning a Christmas Bazaar during Friday and Saturday afternoon and evening of that same week.
